Valencia, November 22, 2021

Dear colleagues and friends,

I am pleased to invite you to the workshop The potential of Marginal Lands as carbon sink in Europe, to be celebrated in November 25th and 26th, 2021, in the framework of the European project Identifying Marginal Lands in Europe and strengthening their contribution potentialities in a CO2 sequestration strategy (MAIL), funded by the Horizon-2020 Research and Innovation European programme, under the Marie Skłodowska-Curie grant agreement N. 823805.

This workshop will be held online and is jointly organized by the Universitat Politècnica de València (UPV, Spain), Aristotle University of Thessaloniki (AUTH, Greece), Centrum Badan Kosmicznych Polskiej Akademii Nauk (CBK PAN, Poland), Gounaris N. – Kontos K. OE (HOMEOTECH, Greece), Industrieranlagen Betriebsgesellschaft MBH (IABG, Germany) and Fundación Centro de Servicios y Promoción FOREstral y de su Industria de Castilla y León (CESEFOR, Spain), and aims to present some of the results obtained in the MAIL project over the last 3 years. In addition, there will be several keynote speakers, experts on marginal lands, their management and optimal use.

As a key stakeholder in territory and the rural environment, your views are considered crucial to the discussions on the results of the study and the future of marginal lands in Europe.

The agenda is available at (link).

Pre-registration is required at (registration form).

With kind regards,
